Tornado At Springfield

Big Damage in Two-Mile Path Through City

State Capitol and Uptown Area Missed By Storm Early Today

SPRINGFIELD (AP)—A tornado swirled without warning into Springfield early today, causing extensive damage in a zig-zag, two-mile path from the southwest to the northern part of the city.

No injuries were reported but the twister tore roofs from homes, felled trees and snapped utility lines. The tornado struck the outskirts of the city about 12:30 a. m., during the height of a severe thunderstorm. Alerts were posted immediately for Lincoln and Decatur, but were lifted a short time later. Numerous streets were blocked by fallen trees. Police rushed to the area.

Scores of automobiles were damaged by the uprooted trees and many homes and some business places were damaged. One roof torn from a home by the roaring

Ask $140,000 For Loss of Spouse, Father

George Fink and James McKenna are named defendants in a $140,000 damage suit filed in Saline County Circuit Clerk's office. The suit filed under the Illinois Dram Shop act by Attorney Arlie O. Boswell Sr. for Betty Jane Ledbetter and her six minor children, name Fink and McKenna as co-partners of the Red and White Package store, New Shawneetown. It is charged that LeRoy Chamberlain obtained alcoholic liquor from the Red and White Package store on or about Nov. 26, 1956, became intoxicated and as a result shot John Eston Ledbetter, who it is declared, died as a result of the shooting.

The plaintiffs are the wife and children of John Eston Ledbetter and the damage suit states they are deprived of his support and livelihood and asks damages in the amount of $20,000 for each of the seven plaintiffs.

Other indictments: Noel Deaton, grand larceny; James Dooley, burglary; Richard A. Copeland, forgery; Leroy Dooley, burglary; Donald King, burglary; Bobbie D. Horton, statutory rape (2 counts);

Harvey Fitzgerald, statutory rape.

The grand jury's report on the condition of the Saline county jail found it to be clean and in a good state of repair, but recommended patching of plaster and some painting.

The body will lie in state at the Gibbons funeral home until the funeral hour.

Was Woman 'Enticed' By Girard?

By LEE NICHOLS
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON (AP)—A high defense official exploded a bombshell in the Girard case today by disclosing government evidence that GI William G. Girard "enticed" a Japanese woman closer toward a guarded area before killing her.

Robert Dechert, Defense Department general counsel, said in Coral Gables, Fla., that testimony of all Japanese witnesses plus that of Girard's "American soldier-companion" made it appear the 21-year-old specialist 3-C "enticed" Japanese civilians prior to his deadly act.

Girard had been ordered to guard a machine gun emplacement on a firing range in Japan where Japanese were accustomed to pick up fired shells to sell as scrap. The defense official said the evidence showed Girard enticed the Japanese closer to the guarded area "by throwing them expended shell casings," then fired a shot that killed Mrs. Naka Sakai.

Denature From Duty
"No one says he deliberately killed the woman," Dechert said. But he added the Ottawa, Ill., soldier's action was "such a complete departure from his duty... that he could not have been considered on duty."

Japan, to whose jurisdiction the United States has surrendered Girard, has made the claim he enticed the Japanese shell gatherers. But heretofore this country has said only that Girard denied the charge.

Dechert's surprise statement amounted to a bombshell in the case. Previously Defense Department spokesmen had indicated they would not reveal evidence against Girard for fear of prejudicing his case in the Japanese courts.

U. S. Attorney Oliver Gasch, who will argue the government's case against Girard's return to this country before Federal District Judge Joseph McGarraghy today, told the United Press: "I didn't know Mr. Dechert was going to say that."

Develop Missile To Defend Against Low-Flying Craft

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Army announced today that it has successfully developed a missile capable of defending against low-flying attacking aircraft.

The missile, known as the Hawk, will fill a gap in present defense systems. Existing missiles guard against high-flying attackers but have failed against planes flying at low altitudes. The failure resulted from interference to standard radar operations.

The Army disclosed it already has started action in the New York and Washington-Baltimore areas to get sites needed for the New Hawk system. It said each battery will require about 40 acres for emplacement.

Early Coal Mining Days in County Discussed by Mr. Halbersleben

The history of the coal mining industry in Saline county and how the coal corporations were formed was discussed at the Rotary meeting Monday at noon by Paul Halbersleben.

Mr. Halbersleben mentioned in particular the O'Garra and Peabody corporations beginning with the purchase in 1905 of about 17 mines by T. J. O'Garra at which time the O'Garra Coal Company was formed. He traced the different mergers of the coal companies stating that these events changed the course of Saline county for many years to come.

Figures presented by Mr. Halbersleben showed that in 1918 80,000,000 tons of coal was mined in Illinois with one-half of 1 per cent being strip mined, as compared with 45,000,000 tons in 1955 with 40 per cent being strip mined. He also said that in 1956 the output of coal was 2,000,000 tons more than in 1952 with 11,000 less miners working due partly to mechanized machinery.

Of the four different types of markets, Mr. Halbersleben stated that Saline county can compete in only one due to the high cost of transportation and production. He stated the belief that the domestic market would continue to be a good one for Saline county.

Don Rice, a visiting Rotarian from Belleville, was a guest of the club.

Appointments Announced at County Board

Geodetic Survey Group to Erect Tower in Court Yard

Appointment of committee members and the reading and approval of reports of various county officials occupied most of the morning as the Saline County Board of Supervisors met in regular session Monday, June 3.

The meeting recessed at noon to re-assemble at 1:30 p. m. However, at 2:10 and only a half dozen or so members in the supervisors' room Chairman Kenneth Jackson declared the meeting adjourned until 9 a. m., the third Thursday in July. The meeting Monday could not be continued due to lack of a quorum.

Hudson Mudge was reappointed to the board of directors of the Egyptian Health Department, and Dr. W. D. Tuttle was re-appointed to the Saline County T. B. Board.

Appointed to the Welfare Services committee were Howard Patterson of Tate township, Clara Pittman of Harrisburg, Harry Bramlet of Eldorado and J. H. Jackson of Galatia. Kenneth Jackson, as chairman of the Board of Supervisors, is also a member of the Welfare Services committee.

Appointed to the Industrial Development committee were Raymond Fields, Carrier Mills; Ewell Winkelman, Harrisburg; Aubrey Giles, Eldorado.

In other action permission was granted the Geodetic Survey group to erect a tower on the southeast corner of the court house yard, and the board passed a resolution permitting five groups — Harrisburg Drive-In theater, Starlight Drive-In theater, Karel Park, Mahoney Park and the Jolly church at Eldorado—to stage supervised fire works displays on July 4.

The Finance committee was instructed to contact auditing firms and take bids for the completion of the 1956 audit of Saline county books. The committee is to report back at the July meeting and it is hoped action can be completed to get the county books audited for last year's business.

Carla Stuby Gets Scholarship to School of Choice

Miss Carla Stuby

Miss Carla Stuby, graduate of the Harrisburg township high school with the class of 1957, Monday received word she had been selected for a State of Illinois Homemaking Scholarship, to be used at the school of her choice.

The letter notifying Miss Stuby of her selection came from Miss Louise Kemmon, state adviser, F. H. A., State of Illinois, Board of Vocational Education.

More than 600 Illinois high school senior girls made application for the ten scholarships and it is an honor, both to Miss Stuby and the HTHS home economics department that she was one of the successful applicants.

Carla has been active in Home-making at the HTHS and during the past year was president of Section 3, including eight counties and 26 schools and also served the HTHS chapter of FHA as recreation chairman.

The scholarships will be presented at the annual Leadership Conference, East Bay Camp, Lake Bloomington, Bloomington, Ill., Thursday, July 24.

New Speed Law Signed By Stratton

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—Gov. William G. Stratton today signed into law his speed limit bill, which will become effective July 1.

The bill limits automobiles to a flat 65 miles an hour or night on state highways.

Buses are limited to 60 miles an hour day or night, trucks under four tons to 55 miles and trucks over four tons to 50 miles.

The bill also gives the Highway Division and the Toll Road Commission authority to set limits up to 70 miles an hour on expressways and turnpikes.

Stratton said the bill was "a milestone in our drive for highway safety in Illinois" and predicted a "decided drop in the number of deaths and serious accidents due to speed."

The bill was the key measure in Stratton's highway safety program. Other bills still in the Legislature call for a 500 man increase in the state police force, and an increase from $1 to $3 in the drivers license fee with the additional money to go to high school driver training programs.

Talks to Press And Tells Them Is Feeling Fine

Said Virtually Recovered From Stomach Upset

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower returned to his office today, "virtually recovered" from a stomach upset which kept him in bed all day Monday.

The chief executive, stricken Sunday night with nausea and painful vomiting, returned to his desk a few minutes before 9 a. m. CDT, and went to work on accumulated mail.

On the recommendation of his doctor, Maj. Gen. Howard McC. Snyder, the President took it relatively easy today and scheduled no official callers.

The President awoke shortly before 7:30 a. m. CDT, and promptly breakfasted on prunes, cooked cereal, toast and honey. An official bulletin said he had a "very comfortable night" and "awoke refreshed and hungry."

White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty reported the chief executive was "virtually recovered."

Reporters got a chance later to see for themselves how the President looked. They were called into his office a few minutes before 9 a. m. He looked anything but a sick man.

He smiled broadly with newsmen and with photographers who took his picture sitting behind a stack of letters.

He said he was feeling "fine."

The President said, "I'm just going to sign a few papers and I have no engagements today."

Hagerty said Eisenhower also would confer during the morning with some members of the White House staff.

A bulletin at 8 a. m. CDT by Hagerty said:

"The President had a very comfortable night. He slept with but one interruption for more than nine hours.

"He awoke refreshed and hungry. He had a breakfast of prunes, cooked cereal with warm milk, toast and honey.

"His temperature, pulse, respiration and blood pressure are normal. He was virtually recovered from his stomach upset, but on the recommendation of his doctor, the President will not have any engagements in his office today."

The White House still blamed the President's upset on food. The doctors were checking back on the President's meals Saturday and Sunday in an effort to find out what made him sick.

Hagerty said it was the considered judgment of the doctors there was no relation between the digestive upset and the President's 1956 ileitis operation or his 1955 heart attack.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON Says:
Big League Baseball Has Already Signed Contracts To Move West; Los Angeles And San Francisco Baseball Will Be On Paid TV; Government
Scientists Riled Over Insuation They Follow H-Bomb Communist Line.

WASHINGTON. — Despite all the palaver about the Brooklyn Dodgers and the New York Giants remaining at their home bases — maybe it just ain't so. The contracts for their removal to Los Angeles and San Francisco are all signed, sealed, and delivered.

The polite palaver is for the purpose of letting New York and Dodger fans down easy and not cutting down gate receipts during the remainder of this season.

The contract between Walter O'Malley of the Dodgers and the Los Angeles group was signed over a month ago and provides that the Dodgers will move west either for the season of 1958 or not later than 1959. Part of the contract calls for paid television.

Under the deal, the Dodgers will get a reasonable rental on a stadium to be built in Los Angeles, and will save the $450,000 a year which New York City charges in admission taxes. O'Malley also makes $5,000,000 by his sale of Ebbets Field in Brooklyn on which will be built an apartment house.

The Los Angeles group arranging the deal includes not only Mayor Norris Poulson, an ex-congressman, but Ed Pauley, the oilman, a heavy backer of Harry Truman.

It was O'Malley who sold Horace Stoneham, owner of the Giants, on going to San Francisco.
Without this it would have been difficult for the Dodgers to move to Los Angeles. But with both teams on the west coast, eastern teams can move from Los Angeles to San Francisco with less cost for the transcontinental trip.

Mayor George Christopher and Louey Lurie of San Francisco were instrumental in tying up the Giants for San Francisco.

Matty Fox, well-known TV and motion picture producer, has secured the television rights for both the Giants and the Dodgers. Fox is an owner of Skiatron, one of the new systems of paid television, and for the first time paid TV will broadcast an important sport to the rest of the nation from Los Angeles and San Francisco.

SCIENTISTS' SLOW BURN

Government scientists at the National Institutes of Health are boiling at a crackdown of high officials against circulation of a petition to ban H-bomb tests. Scientists are especially incensed at an attempt to make it appear that their petition is Communist inspired.

Probably the greatest group of government scientists in the U.
S. A. resides at the National Health Institutes at Bethesda, Md., where they research into every disease known to man. Recently about a thousand of them signed a petition urging the banning of H-bomb tests. During the course of circulating the petition, it was seized by Dr. Francis Arnold, director of dental research.

Afterward, Asst. Surgeon General James A. Shannon, head of all the institutes, issued a directive permitting scientists to sign the petition as private citizens, but "not as an official act." Since no one had signed as an official, this was considered unnecessary double-talk and meddling with the right of free petition.

But, on top of this, Dr. Joseph E. Smadel NIH associate director has circulated a notice to laboratory chiefs and bureau chiefs, warning scientists that they might be following the Communist party line.

His warning reads:
"You perhaps know that government agencies were advised by the attorney general some weeks ago that a probable line of Communist propaganda this year would be to seek to exploit dis-ension on the question of the hazards of radioactive fallout.
"This knowledge make it appear possible that well-informed and well-intentioned people in all walks of life may unwittingly be used to further such a propaganda line."

Scientists regard this as intimidation. What burns them up is that the Joint Atomic Energy committee has been holding vitally important hearings regarding H-bomb tests showing that future generations may be set back for years by H-bomb radiation. Expression of this viewpoint, it's indicated by Dr. Smadel, Attorney General Brownell, and President Eisenhower at his latest press conference, may be expressing the Communist Party line.

SQUEEZING THE AIRWAYS

One of the most important congressional reports of the year is being issued. It's by Congressman Mannie Celler of Brooklyn and it goes to the heart of the American system of free and open communications. Celler is putting the bee on the following:
The Federal Communications Commission for playing unconscionable politics, playing footsie with the big networks, and stifling UHF channels.

American Telephone and Telegraph for denying live broadcasts to rural communities by charging excessive rates for transmission lines.

Columbia Broadcasting and National Broadcasting for hogging the best stations and putting other networks out of business.

The trend toward monopoly in radio and television, by which a few men can dominate the thinking and culture of the nation.

The network practice of bottling up talent and performers with long-term contracts. The antitrust division is asked to investigate.
vestigate.

Broadcast Music, Inc., the organization created by the networks to promote their own music and records. Under this monopoly, such old-timers who belong to ASCAP, as Irving Berlin, Oscar Hammerstein, Cole Porter,
Otto Harbach and Arthur Schwartz claim their music is gradually being squeezed off the airways.

It's a report that touches everyone, and, though heavy reading, it should be required reading for a lot of people.

Thinking
It Over

By Robert L. Dieffenbacher, D. D.
(Written for NEA Service)

Mowing the lawn with a hand mower and clipping the edges with shears is a tedious and irksome process, but the lawn looks so much better after the job is done. The hours we spend cutting grass seem so futile because we scarcely finish the task when we have to repeat the process.

Occasionally, we wait too long between mowings. The grass grows tall. It becomes matted.
The weeds grow faster than the grass. Lawns seem to require constant attention.

The nice green outdoor carpets are comparable to the religious phases of our lives. Religion requires a great deal of attention.
If we slight our spiritual responsibilities, sin can creep in and grow very rapidly. Our lives can become pretty disreputable if we do not keep our worship active.

Don't Neglect Slipping
FALSE TEETH

Do false teeth drop, slip or wobble when you talk, eat, laugh or sneeze?
Don't be annoyed and embarrassed by such handicaps. FASTEETH, an alkaline (non-acid) powder to sprinkle on your plates, keeps false teeth more firmly set. Gives confident feel-

Cadillac

Greatness Is Never Achieved Suddenly!

It has long been true, in the affairs of men, that only time can confirm the gift of greatness.

Artist, statesman, writer, craftsman—each must await the years for the maturity of his talent and for the verdict of his judges.

And as it is in the affairs of men, so it is in the world of commerce. Nothing great was ever created suddenly—whether the product be that of an individual or of an organization.

Here, most certainly, is the very genesis of the unique position which Cadillac currently occupies in the hearts and minds of the world's motorists.

Since the first Cadillac car made its appearance more than fifty-five years ago, it has always been created to a single objective: to make it as fine a motor car as it is possible to produce.

And, without question, the mission and the accomplishment have been one and the same.

The goodness of Cadillac has, in fact, been so apparent over that lengthy span that the Cadillac name stands today as an accepted synonym for quality wherever highways exist.

The pretenders have come—and they have gone. For time is an exacting taskmaster—and only the principles that have created the great Cadillac car and only the devotion that has given it being have been equal to the challenge.

Never has this fact been more deeply etched in the public consciousness than it is during the present automotive year.

If you have yet to take the wheel of a 1957 Cadillac, you should hesitate no longer to visit your authorized Cadillac dealer.

Waiting for you in his showroom is proof beyond doubt that Cadillac is—in fact as in reputation—the Standard of the World!

Learn Elizabeth And Phillip to Visit U. S. in October

WASHINGTON (AP)—Queen Elizabeth II and Prince Philip have accepted an invitation to visit the United States in October, it was learned today.

There had been a report that the visit would be announced this morning in simultaneous announcements from Washington and London. However, a later message from London called for a postponement of the announcement for "a day or two," an authoritative source said. The acceptance of the Queen's American visit to be studied.

Farmers Face Big Wheat Ballot Issue

Farmers have two issues to decide in the June 20 wheat referendum, according to Herman Driskell, chairman, Saline County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committee.

The first issue is whether marketing quotas will be in effect, carrying with them penalties on "excess" wheat from farms (with more than 15 acres of wheat harvested as grain) on which the allotment is exceeded. The second issue is the level of the available price support.

A two-thirds favorable vote is required to approved wheat marketing quotas. Once quotas are approved, penalties for production in excess of the farm's quota are in effect for all farms in the commercial wheat states which harvest over 15 acres of grain. The farm quota is generally all the wheat produced on the acreage allotment. Under quotas, also, price support on the 1938 wheat crop will be available at a minimum national average of $1.78 per bushel to those farmers who are in compliance with their farm allotments.

Mr. Driskell explains that if more than one-third of the voters disapprove quotas, there will be no marketing quotas and no penalties for excess production. However, acreage allotments will remain in effect in the commercial area, and the price support will be available at 50 per cent of parity to those farmers who comply with their allotments.

Wheat marketing quotas and acreage allotments operate only in the 36 states designated as "commercial" wheat state, which includes Illinois. States must have allotments of more than 25,000 acres of wheat to rate as a commercial wheat state.

Illinois Oil Well Drilling Declines

URBANA, Ill. (AP)—Oil well drilling in Illinois continued to decline during May, the Geological Survey Division reported today.

There were only 207 wells completed in May, compared with 319 in May, 1956.

Oil well completions for the first five months of this year have totaled only about 70 per cent of the number completed in the first five months of last year.

The division said unfavorable weather was partly responsible for the decline in May drilling operations.

But it said there has been no outstanding new oil pool or extension of a pool discovered in the state for almost a year and there is "no concentrated area of development."

House Hikes Unemployment Pay Schedule

SPRINGFIELD (AP)—A bill raising state unemployment compensation benefits went to the Senate today with unanimous House approval.

The bill passed by the House, 161-0, late Monday, would provide these increases in weekly unemployment compensation benefits:

From $28 to $30 for a person without dependents; from $31 to $33 for a person with a dependent wife; from $31 to $36 for a person with a wife and one dependent child; from $34 to $39 for a person with a wife and two dependent children; from $37 to $42 for a person with a wife and three dependent children; and from $40 to $45 for a person with a wife and four or more dependent children.

In other action, the House moved to within one step of final legislative approval a bill to include sparklers in the state ban on fireworks.

New Moves for Laws To Determine When President Can't Serve

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower's newest illness gave fresh impetus today to legislation to determine when a president is unable to perform his duties.

Chairman Emanuel Celler (D-N.Y.) said his House Judiciary Committee would start discussing various proposals today but would not reach an immediate vote. The proposals have been before the committee for weeks but were low on its agenda.

Celler said Eisenhower's stomach upset "emphasizes the need for legislation" on the subject.

The issue has arisen because the U. S. Constitution, although specifying the vice president shall take over the presidency in event of the president's death, resignation or inability to carry out his duties, does not say how a case of inability should be decided or by whom. Eisenhower himself has urged Congress to act promptly on this issue.

Cook County Treasurer Office Shortages May Reach $1,600,000

CHICAGO (AP)—New irregularities discovered in the Cook County treasurer's office may boost total shortages of taxpayers' money to more than $1,600,000, the state's attorney, estimated today.

The irregularities were announced late Monday and apparently stemmed from failure to collect interest on taxes in a number of foreclosure suits during the past 10 years.

State's Atty. Benjamin Adamowski said he will ask the county board today for funds to hire special auditors to investigate the full extent of the loss.

Twelve Killed When Truck Hit by Train

Five Other Migrant Farm Workers Hurt, Some Critically

VROMAN, Colo. (AP)—Twelve migrant farm workers were killed today when a pickup truck taking them to sugar beet fields was struck by a Santa Fe freight train.

The dead, all from the Rocky Ford, Colo., area, included men, women and children. Authorities said it would be "some time" before they could be identified.

Bodies were said to be scattered for at least 400 feet.

The truck was reported turning off U. S. 50 to go to a farm when it was hit by the train at shortly after 8 a. m.

Sylvester Licano of Rocky Ford, six miles east of here, was driving the truck. He was killed.

The Colorado state patrol said Licano apparently was blinded by the sun and failed to see the approaching train.

None of the train crew was injured.

Engineer U. S. Inskeep was too "upset" to talk, authorities said. The rest of his crew, conductor J. C. Prince, brakeman Troy Thomas and rear brakeman D. A.

On the basis of those facts and others—such as the expectation that the female labor force will number 32 million by 1975—the NAM plans to greatly expand its activities in the women's field.

Johnson, could give no reason for the crash.

The state patrol said the truck was a mass of twisted steel. Most of the victims were thrown clear by the impact.

Several of the five survivors, taken to the Rocky Ford and La Junta hospitals, were not expected to live.

Authorities said there were about 25 persons on the truck.

The number of unemployed persons looking for jobs edged upward by 25,000 to 2,715,000, although some decline is usual in May, the Labor and Commerce department reported.

SUN POWERS HELMET RADIO—No decoration, striped strip on top of this soldier's helmet is a series of silicon wafers which make up a solar battery that powers an experimental model of the Army's helmet radio. Nickel-cadmium storage cells in the circuit store energy during the daytime. Theoretically the solar power unit could keep a soldier's radio operational for as long as a year. Development of the device is credited to the Army's signal engineering laboratories.

Europeans More Critical, But Want U. S. Tourist Dollars

Editor's note: Criticism of America has mounted in Europe since last fall's Suez crisis. It isn't confined to newspaper accounts and living room conversations. Even the American tourist abroad this year may hear some of it. U.P. correspondent Claire Cox did as she motored with her husband through Britain and the continent.

By CLAIRE COX
United Press Staff Correspondent
LONDON (U.P.)—A horde of more than 700,000 Americans are looking forward to trips to Europe this year — but is Europe looking forward to them?

The Italians and French both treat the American tourist as a child—the Italians as their own, the French as someone else's.

Both advertise widely for visits by Americans. Both say they are glad to see Americans. But while the Italians smile when they take your dollars, the French just take them.

The British don't drink tea so much any more. These days they drink American-style coffee and criticize the United States.

British streets and highways are traveled by Britons in American-style automobiles. London shops feature styles fresh from Fifth Avenue. There is an American-style soda fountain at Shakespeare's birthplace at Stratford. Pleased and Angry

But Britons make it quite clear that while they may buy American, they don't have to be pro-American.

The Swiss are pleased at the chance of a greater income from tourists than watches. The West Germans are glad Americans feel more free to visit their country and they hope for a revival of the friendly exchanges of post World War I days.

But some Swiss are angry at the U. S. for its higher tariffs on Swiss watch movements and its decision not to back the British-French invasion of Suez.

Some West Germans resent American "efficiency" and dislike Yankees because of the presence of the U. S. Army in Germany 12 years after the war.

These are impressions gained after two months' motoring through Britain and the continent. My husband and I came to Europe with no preconceived ideas of what we would find. We just packed our bags—and out, money—and came.

Our impressions came only from dealing with persons who live off the tourist business.

Complain about U. S.

One day a hotel waiter in Preston, England, tells you, "All the world radiates from America these days."

The next you hear a British woman declare, "No one in the world likes Americans any more."

"We don't care whether we get your dollars or not," said a shopkeeper when an American complained that he was not getting a fair exchange for his traveler's check.

Smokey Says:

Now is the time for all good men to come to the aid of their country!

TAKING NO CHANCES—Mrs. Douglas Scott points to barbed wire above fence at rear of her home, which was erected to protect her children from possible kidnaper. Mrs. Scott and her husband, Douglas Scott, a civilian employee at the U. S. Naval Base in Yokosuka, Japan, have received mail and phone calls threatening to "cut their four children into pieces" unless $9,000 is paid. The Scotts don't know whether a fiend is stalking their children or if it is merely a cruel joke. (NEA Telephoto)

CONSTIPATED?

New laxative discovery un-locks bowel blocks without gag, bloot or gripe

Constipation is caused by what doctors call a "thrifty" colon that, instead of retaining moisture as it should, does the opposite: robs the colon of so much moisture that its contents become dehydrated, so dry that they block the bowel; so shrunken that they fail to excite or stimulate the urge to purge that propels and expels waste from your body.

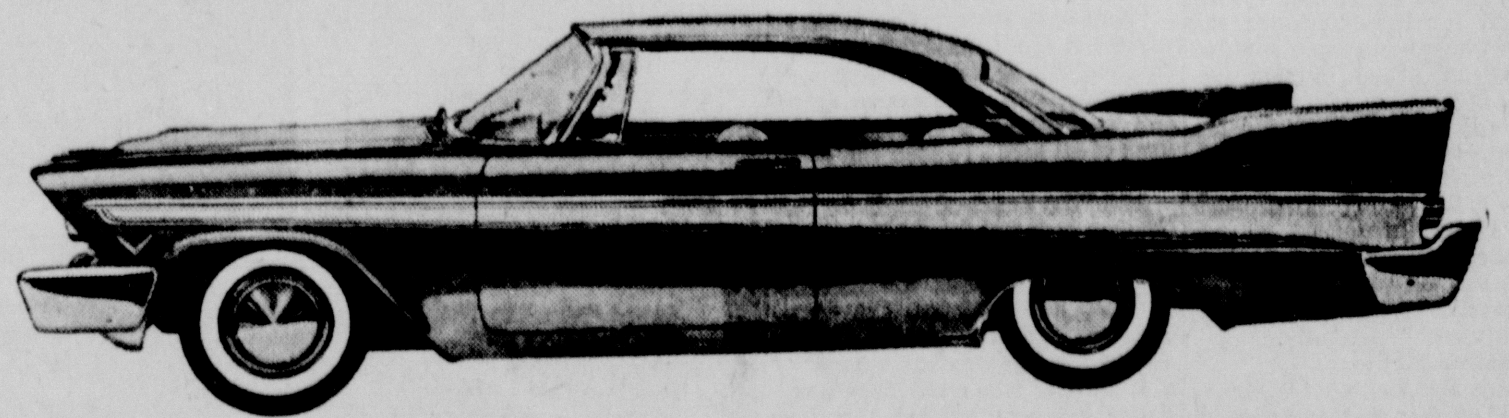

To regain normal regularity, the dry, shrunken, constipating contents of your colon which now block your bowel must be re-moistened. Second, bulk must be brought to your colon to stimulate it to action; to a normal urge to purge.

And, of all laxatives, only COLONAM, the amazing new laxative discovery possesses COLONAM's great moisturizing capacity, plus COLONAM's stretch-stimulating bulk. So effective it relieves even chronic constipation overnight, COLONAM is yet so smooth, so gentle it has proved safe even for women in critical stages of pregnancy.

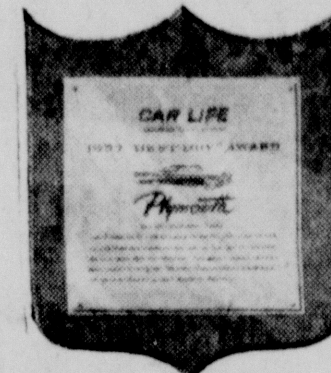

Superior to old style bulk, salt or drug laxatives, COLONAM neither gags, bloats nor grips; won't interfere with absorption of vitamins and other valuable food nutrients; in clinical tests, did not cause rash or other reactions.

It's a physiological fact: Exercise tones your body! And COLONAM exercises your colon to tone it against constipation, overnight! Get COLONAM, in easy-to-take tablet form at any drug counter, today! Only 98¢ for the 60 tablet package, brings positive relief at less than 2¢ per tablet.

Inside the Garden with Billy Graham: Message Always Is Plan of Salvation

By LOUIS CASSELS
United Press Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK (UP) — As you turn off Broadway onto West 49th Street, you see the first sign that something strange is happening in the big city.

A poster hung in the window of a neon-lighted bar urges you to "attend the Billy Graham crusade."

A block farther, the lighted marquee of Madison Square Garden comes into view. In the same bold letters that have announced prize fights and circuses, it proclaims: "Nightly at 7:30... Billy Graham New York crusade... air conditioned... all seats free."

It is not yet 7 p. m., but a long line already stands outside the main entrance. No ticket is needed to get in. Although some sections are reserved for church sponsored delegations, at least half of the 18,500 seats are held open each night for people who just walk in.

As the well-mannered crowd moves inside, you notice that the Garden has undergone a few subtle transformations. Strips of cardboard cover the beer signs. A Bible shop has been set up in a checkroom.

Big Platform Erected

At the west end of the Garden, is a big platform, about 10 feet above the arena floor. Decorated with potted plants, it is furnished with chairs, an electric organ and a piano. On a narrow promontory extending from the front of the platform, surrounded by a wrought iron fence, is the mahogany pulpit.

From the front of the pulpit to the first row of folding chairs is a 30-foot space—room for several hundred people to stand. The rows of chairs are divided by aisles. Some sections are marked with signs—reserved for counselors, for ministers, for the blind, for the deaf (to whom the sermon is translated by an expert in sign language).

You will listen in vain for the coughing, whispering, throat-clearing and chair-scrapping that usually go with a big crowd. These people have come to witness, or perhaps to experience, religious conversion, and they are waiting... some reverently, some curiously, all quietly and expectantly.

Choir Begins To Sing

There is a paper-bound "Crusade Hymnal" on your seat, and promptly at 7:30 Choir Director Cliff Barrows tells you to turn to turn to page 38. The choir—800 women in white blouses, 700 men in white shirts—swells out in the familiar words of "Blessed Assurance." Barrows gently coaxes you to join in... "there's a blessing if you sing..." and soon the whole crowd is singing.

Two more hymns... a prayer by local minister... a vocal solo by George Beverly Shea... the scripture is read by an English clergyman... the offering is taken up in cardboard ice buckets. So far the service has been — except for the sheer size of choir and congregation — just what you'd find in any Baptist church on Sunday morning.

You have been waiting for Graham to make a dramatic entrance. But now you spot him sitting there on the platform, taking part in the preliminaries like everyone else. At 8:10 p. m., without fanfare or introduction, he gets up and walks quietly to the pulpit.

He is, as advertised, a handsome man, with hawklike features and wavy blond hair that makes him look younger than his 38 years. His suit is well tailored, perfectly pressed.

HOLLYWOOD (UP) — Local police rushed for the rule book when they spotted actress Lisa Davis walking on a downtown street wearing a brief, fuzzy, pink nightgown to publicize a movie.

The desk sergeant found a city ordinance which forbids wearing bathing suits on city streets—but not a word about nightgowns.

FORT POLK, La. (UP) — The Army's laundry code system has run into double trouble because regulations require GIs to mark clothing with their last names and final four digits of their serial numbers. THUMB-DOWN FOR WARD—Harvie Ward, two-time winner of the National Amateur Golf Championships, gives with a symbolic thumbs-down gesture as the U. S. Golf Association puts the San Franciscan under one-year probation for "misinterpretation of the rules." Meeting in Chicago, the USGA executive committee, with Ward present, ruled that Ward "violated his amateur status" by accepting expenses "incident to participation" during a four-year period. He could be eligible for reinstatement by May 6, 1958.

Braves' Buhl Stops Brooks, As Pirates Beat Redlegs; Detroit Again Takes Yanks

By FRED DOWN

United Press Sports Writer
The Milwaukee Braves are the majors' No. 1 enigma this year because they're playing like also-rans against the weak teams but look like champions against their chief National League rivals.

The Braves again rose to the challenge of a top contender Monday night when Bob Buhl's four-hit pitching and Ed Mathews' two-run homer gave them a 3-1 victory over the Brooklyn Dodgers. The win put the Braves into a third-place tie with the Dodgers and moved them within a game and a half of the first-place Cincinnati Redlegs, who lost to the Pittsburgh Pirates, 5-2.

Tigers Take Yanks
The Detroit Tigers walloped the New York Yankees, 9-4, for their sixth victory in eight meetings with the world champions and the Boston Red Sox clubbed the Kansas City A's, 11-4, in the only other big league activity.

Buhl, who beat the Dodgers eight times last season, did it for the second time this year although six walks kept him in frequent trouble. The big right hander struck out five for his fifth victory of the year.

Mathews, who hit only 218 against Brooklyn last season, put the Braves ahead with his third-inning homer and singles by Bill Bruton, Johnny Logan and Hank Aaron produced their other run in the eighth. Don Newcombe suffered the defeat and now stands 4-6 for the year. Gil Hodges had three of the Dodgers' four hits and raised his league-leading average to .371.

End Loss String
The Pirates ended a string of 15

Businaro Hits 3 Homers in Opening Play

By David Nelson

First Baptist defeated Social Brethren, 20-4, Beggs' downed Ridgeway, 25-1, Vick's edged Pankeys, 11-10, and the McKinley Baptist Dodgers beat Galatia, 12-3, in the opening Kiwanis baseball league games Monday on the VFW Memorial park diamond.

Businaro, First Baptist Pony league catcher, was player of the day as he pounded out three home runs and a single in four trips to the plate.

Tied 3-3 going into the third, First Baptist exploded with nine hits and 14 runs in the third and then coasted to a 20-4 victory over Social Brethren. Besides Businaro's four safeties, Riegel had three and Smith and McSparin two hits each. Pankey got the only Social Brethren hit, a single, off Maynard, Coker and Riegel, Baptist hurlers.

Potter smashed four hits including a homer and combined with Cannon to toss a three-hitter as Beggs gained an easy 25-1 victory over Ridgeway. Beggs' team also played good defensive ball, making only one error. Guley had three hits and Betz and Cannon picked up two singles each for the winners. Hendrix led Ridgeway at bat, getting two out of three hits.

Vick pitchers were wild and gave up eight walks the first inning but settled down and pitched shutout ball for five of the remaining six. Shelton led the winning attack with three blows. Roberson had two triples and Summers and Gleghorn hit safely twice. Stunson, Wunderlich and Hill had the only Pankey safeties.

McKinley led all the way against Galatia under the lights. Zan Hefner and Butch Biggs pitched a one-hitter, walking eight and striking out eight. For the winners, Syers had two singles and Beggs, Nelson, Wasson and Hefner picked up single hits. Boyett got the lone Galatia hit, a double in the fifth. Today's schedule: 1:30—McKinley Baptist vs. Dorrisville Baptist (Pony); 3:30—Epperheimer vs. Independents (Kitty); 5:30—Social Brethren vs. First Baptist (III); 7:30—McConnell vs. Social Brethren (National).

Eddie Arcaro Seeks Seventh Belmont Win Atop Bold Ruler

NEW YORK (AP)—Jockey Willie Shoemaker and trainer Johnny Nerud face a formidable barrier of Belmont Stakes success Saturday when they match wits with Eddie Arcaro and Sunny Jim Fitzsimmons.

Shoemaker, who will ride Ralph Lowe's Gallant Man, and Nerud, the colt's trainer, will be trying to win the $100,000 classic for the first time.

Arcaro will be shooting for his seventh Belmont triumph when he sends Wheatley Stable's Bold Ruler out of the starting gate. And if Bold Ruler wins the mile-and-a-half race, he'll also give Fitzsimmons, the 82-year-old dean of American trainers, his seventh Belmont victory.

SUBSTITUTE DOCTOR

By ELIZABETH SEIFERT

Dr. Flynn tipped his head back and pressed the tips of his fingers against his eyes. Garde watched him alertly. His entire future could swing upon Dr. Flynn's next words. At his age, Flynn would soon be selecting a younger man to train for his place. In spite of himself and his premonitory instinct not to build his hopes too high—though of course they could not be higher—Garde floated off on a dream of what would be his career, starting as assistant to Dr. Flynn, sharing his office and his work, his ideas, taking over gradually for the aging man and finally . . .

Dr. Flynn was talking. And the things he was saying . . .

With a thud, Garde let his foot drop to the floor; he sat erect, then leaned toward his chief. "Say that again!" he cried hoarsely.

Dr. Flynn nodded. "Knew you weren't listening," he grunted.

Well—Garde had been—but the suggestion which Flynn had made had—had shocked him. Garde's fingertips tingled, and his pulse was rapid from shock.

Dr. Flynn's blue eyes recognized both the shock and its cause. He too must have known of Dr. Shelton's hopes, his ambition.

"I asked you," he said precisely, fitting the tips of his clean, pink fingers together to form a tent, "if you would take a job at Bayard. I asked you if you would go up there and practice as pediatrician in the small clinic they have there."

Yes. That was what Garde had heard him say. Now—he ground his teeth together in his effort not to speak too soon and say the wrong thing. Dr. Flynn was a man to keep a bee of some sort buzzing constantly in his bonnet, but—gee whiz! This sort of proposition couldn't be farther from Garde's hope of an assistantship! What could he do? Or say?

Dr. Flynn was still watching him

The personnel at Children's said the chief operated on his own wave length, he could both see and hear what went on in anyone's inner mind.

Garde straightened his shoulders and essayed to put on his mask of inscrutability. He didn't suppose it hid much from Flynn, but he'd try. He still had said nothing.

"You've heard of the place?" Flynn asked now.

"The name's familiar, yes, sir." The name of the town, Garde hadn't known about the clinic.

Dr. Flynn immediately sought to inform him.

"They have a clinic. Small, though about average for rural Missouri. Above average in quality, I'd say. There are four doctors on the staff, all qualified specialists in their fields. It was started about 10 years ago and largely financed—maybe it is still so financed—I don't know about that—by Dr. Thomas Lillard."

He shot a bright-eyed glance at Garde. Good poker face, thought Dr. Flynn. I kick him in the belly, and he recovers at once. He'll do, this boy.

"Lillard's a specialist in pediatrics," Flynn continued. "He has written a couple of good books on the care and feeding of infants. They're still in use, though Spock and others have lately absorbed the market."

Garde did know the name. As far back as the 20's, Dr. Lillard had advocated the feeding of orange juice and cereals to tiny babies.

"This clinic," Dr. Flynn was saying, "is attached to a small hospital—about 20 beds—and each doctor has his own private office practice. The hospital, and the offices, have the best in equipment. There's money behind this, you see. The hospital is equipped to do emergency surgery of all kinds and to give short-term hospitalization."

"And there are children cases," Garde's tone was wooden.

"Lots of children. It's the busiest of their services."

"Do you know the place well, sir?"

"Yes, I do. I know each of the doctors there—and old Dr. Lillard has been my friend for years. I've been up there frequently, both socially and professionally."

"I see."

"Given my own choice and if I were 20 years younger, it would be my ideal of a place to work and to live."

Twenty years ago, Garde Shelton had been 15, trying to figure out his best chances for a scholarship to premedical school. Twenty years ago, there had been a depression.

"These men they have up at Bayard," Dr. Flynn went on, "were all chaps who recognized and deplored the killing pace of city life and city medical practice. They didn't exactly want to go rustic—either socially or professionally—but they were favorably attracted to a semirural place like this town and its clinic. It's 40 miles upriver, you know, in a district of great natural beauty. There are farms and small estates. They breed fine horses up there and raise apples; the life affords time for hobbies."

He leaned forward. "Would this position be a permanent arrangement, sir?"

"I hope not."

Dr. Flynn made his reply quietly, and for a long minute Garde thought he was not going to amplify it. He sat, courteously waiting, then stubbornly determined that he would not speak first.

Dr. Flynn's lips quirked. "I need you on my service, Shelton," he said softly, "and—want you."

Garde should have been more pleased than he was, more excited. "Then why send me into the sticks, sir?"

"It's not the 'sticks,' and I'm not sending you."

"You asked me to go."

"It's not quite the same thing."

"But of course it is, sir! I've followed your advice and your orders too long . . ."

This pleased Dr. Flynn. "Yes, yes," he conceded. "I counted on that when I made the suggestion."

Garde's big mouth tightened over the word the chief had chosen. "But why me, sir? I mean—well, I have to give some consideration to myself. And I know—as you must know—that I wouldn't fit into the picture up there."

"They need a pediatrician up there. A doctor. I considered that need when they asked me to send them a man. And I picked the best doctor I knew."

Garde should have been flattered by this praise. "Well—I still can't see—unless you mean to supervise my work . . ."

"Oh, no! You'll be on your own. You're ready for that, Shelton."

Dr. Flynn nodded, then smiled. "I told you that I hoped this position would not be a permanent thing. For my sake, and perhaps for yours. But most certainly for the sake of the man you would replace."

Garde felt the hair rise upon the back of his neck, and the skin of his forearms prickled into bumps. He was right then; he'd been remembering bits of the story ever since this discussion had begun, holding it at the back of his mind, for if he could talk himself out of this assignment, he'd need give no more than casual consideration to—

His voice came in a croak. "Not . . .?"

"Yes," said Dr. Flynn. "Precisely that one. Garde . . ." He leaned toward the young doctor. "Has your imagination ever dwelt upon the family of a man convicted of some crime and committed to a long term in prison? Have you ever considered what happens to that family, and to his friends? To the people with whom he's worked? Have you ever wondered how they manage to pick up and go on?"

"Why, no, sir, I can't say that I have. It must mean a terrific adjustment, of course."

"But I don't suppose many people consider the details of that adjustment," said Dr. Flynn sadly. "I myself might not have given the matter much thought, but, as I told you, I've been a friend of Tom Lillard's for years. I'd often visited in their home, and when his son Kurt—a successful young doctor, and a popular one—he's just about your age, Garde!—was arrested and charged with murder! The arrest itself was a fearful blow to his father and to his friends. Then, along the practical line, immediately the other doctors at the clinic had to take over his work. So soon did it become evident to the other three that many details must be considered and handled. Who would take the fall for little Mary's measles? Or Johnny's strep throat? Well, until the trial, his father did the work that was necessary. But then, as perhaps you recall, there was the trial, and the young doctor was convicted of murdering his sweetheart's would-be lover. A boy of 22. The conviction was attained largely because it was testified that Kurt had had previous trouble with this boy—the term used then was 'bad blood.' Bad blood had existed between the two. A silly phrase. No meaning."

Dr. Flynn was more tense than Garde had even seen him.

"But on the basis of such testimony, the court gave Kurt 70 years! Called him guilty to that extent, though town opinion had acquitted him unconditionally."

"The trial was last January, and the other doctors have been carrying on until I could send them a man. So—it could be a lifetime job for you, Garde, or it could be for a matter of months. Just last week his case was granted an appeal hearing. If his conviction holds, he'll remain in prison until his sentence expires. If the townspeople are correct and he's cleared—you come back to me within the year."

Garde sat appalled. With the
